Move the Solution, Not the Problem

Completed Project-Home Heating Oil Remediation - Piscataway, New Jersey

Property has been under pump and treat remediation for some time that was not effective. Pilot Study that showed excellent results but soil was recontaminated by residual material nearby. The treatment was completed in front yard, including under the pine and hardwood trees by injecting between the major roots and around the lower trees.

Soil was Brunswick Shale, so treatment was confined to the area above competent bed-rock, just as in the Pilot Study.

All results were below NJDEP standards on the first round of soil samples. Reportedly site will be closed even though there is product upgradient from an unknown source.
